ASSISTANCE WITH ABSTRACT WRITING

A number of abstract development opportunities are available through the Munn Center for Nursing Research including:

- Attend an Abstract Writing Class. A "How to Write an Abstract" class is presented by Carolyn Paul, MSLS, MPH, Associate Director, Treadwell Library. This is an informative session that can help you get started with your ideas and is offered on 2 separate days: September 21, 2015, 12-1pm in Founders 311, a second course offering will be available on November 16, 2015, 12-1pm in Founders 311.
- Access slides from the abstract presentation. If you would like to access the slides from the abstract development class, click here.
- Consultation through the Munn Center for Nursing Research. If you cannot attend one of the abstract classes described above, please contact Sara Looby via email at slooby@partners.org to schedule an appointment for assistance with your abstract or if you have any questions regarding selecting the correct abstract category or IRB requirements.
- Articles on Abstract Development. If you are interested in reviewing articles on abstract development, please see below.
